

It's our time
to read,
our five minutes
for paperview,
the urgent journals are threatening to overwhelm us, it's already happening,
the signs have been sunset,
verse confiscation or worse,
consonantal drift,
you remember the verb wars,
false synecdotal terrorism,
tyranny reigning,

is there no god to protect us?
You needn't be some Charlotte Brontë
conspiracy theorist
to recognize the dangers when you see them.
And now,
adamantine proof of congressional stanza camps and unprincipled journals turning a corner on consonants!
And the final envoi,
what is it?

Congress and its library have made preparations for your family, the question is, HAVE YOU?
Check out our video
before it's banned once more;
We expose the truth
and urge you to prepare:

Get the words out!
It's on the cable, it's on the air,
forward this to your friends,
to your family,
to those for whom
you have long since

ceased to care:
the gods
must want us poets dead.
